FOREWORD

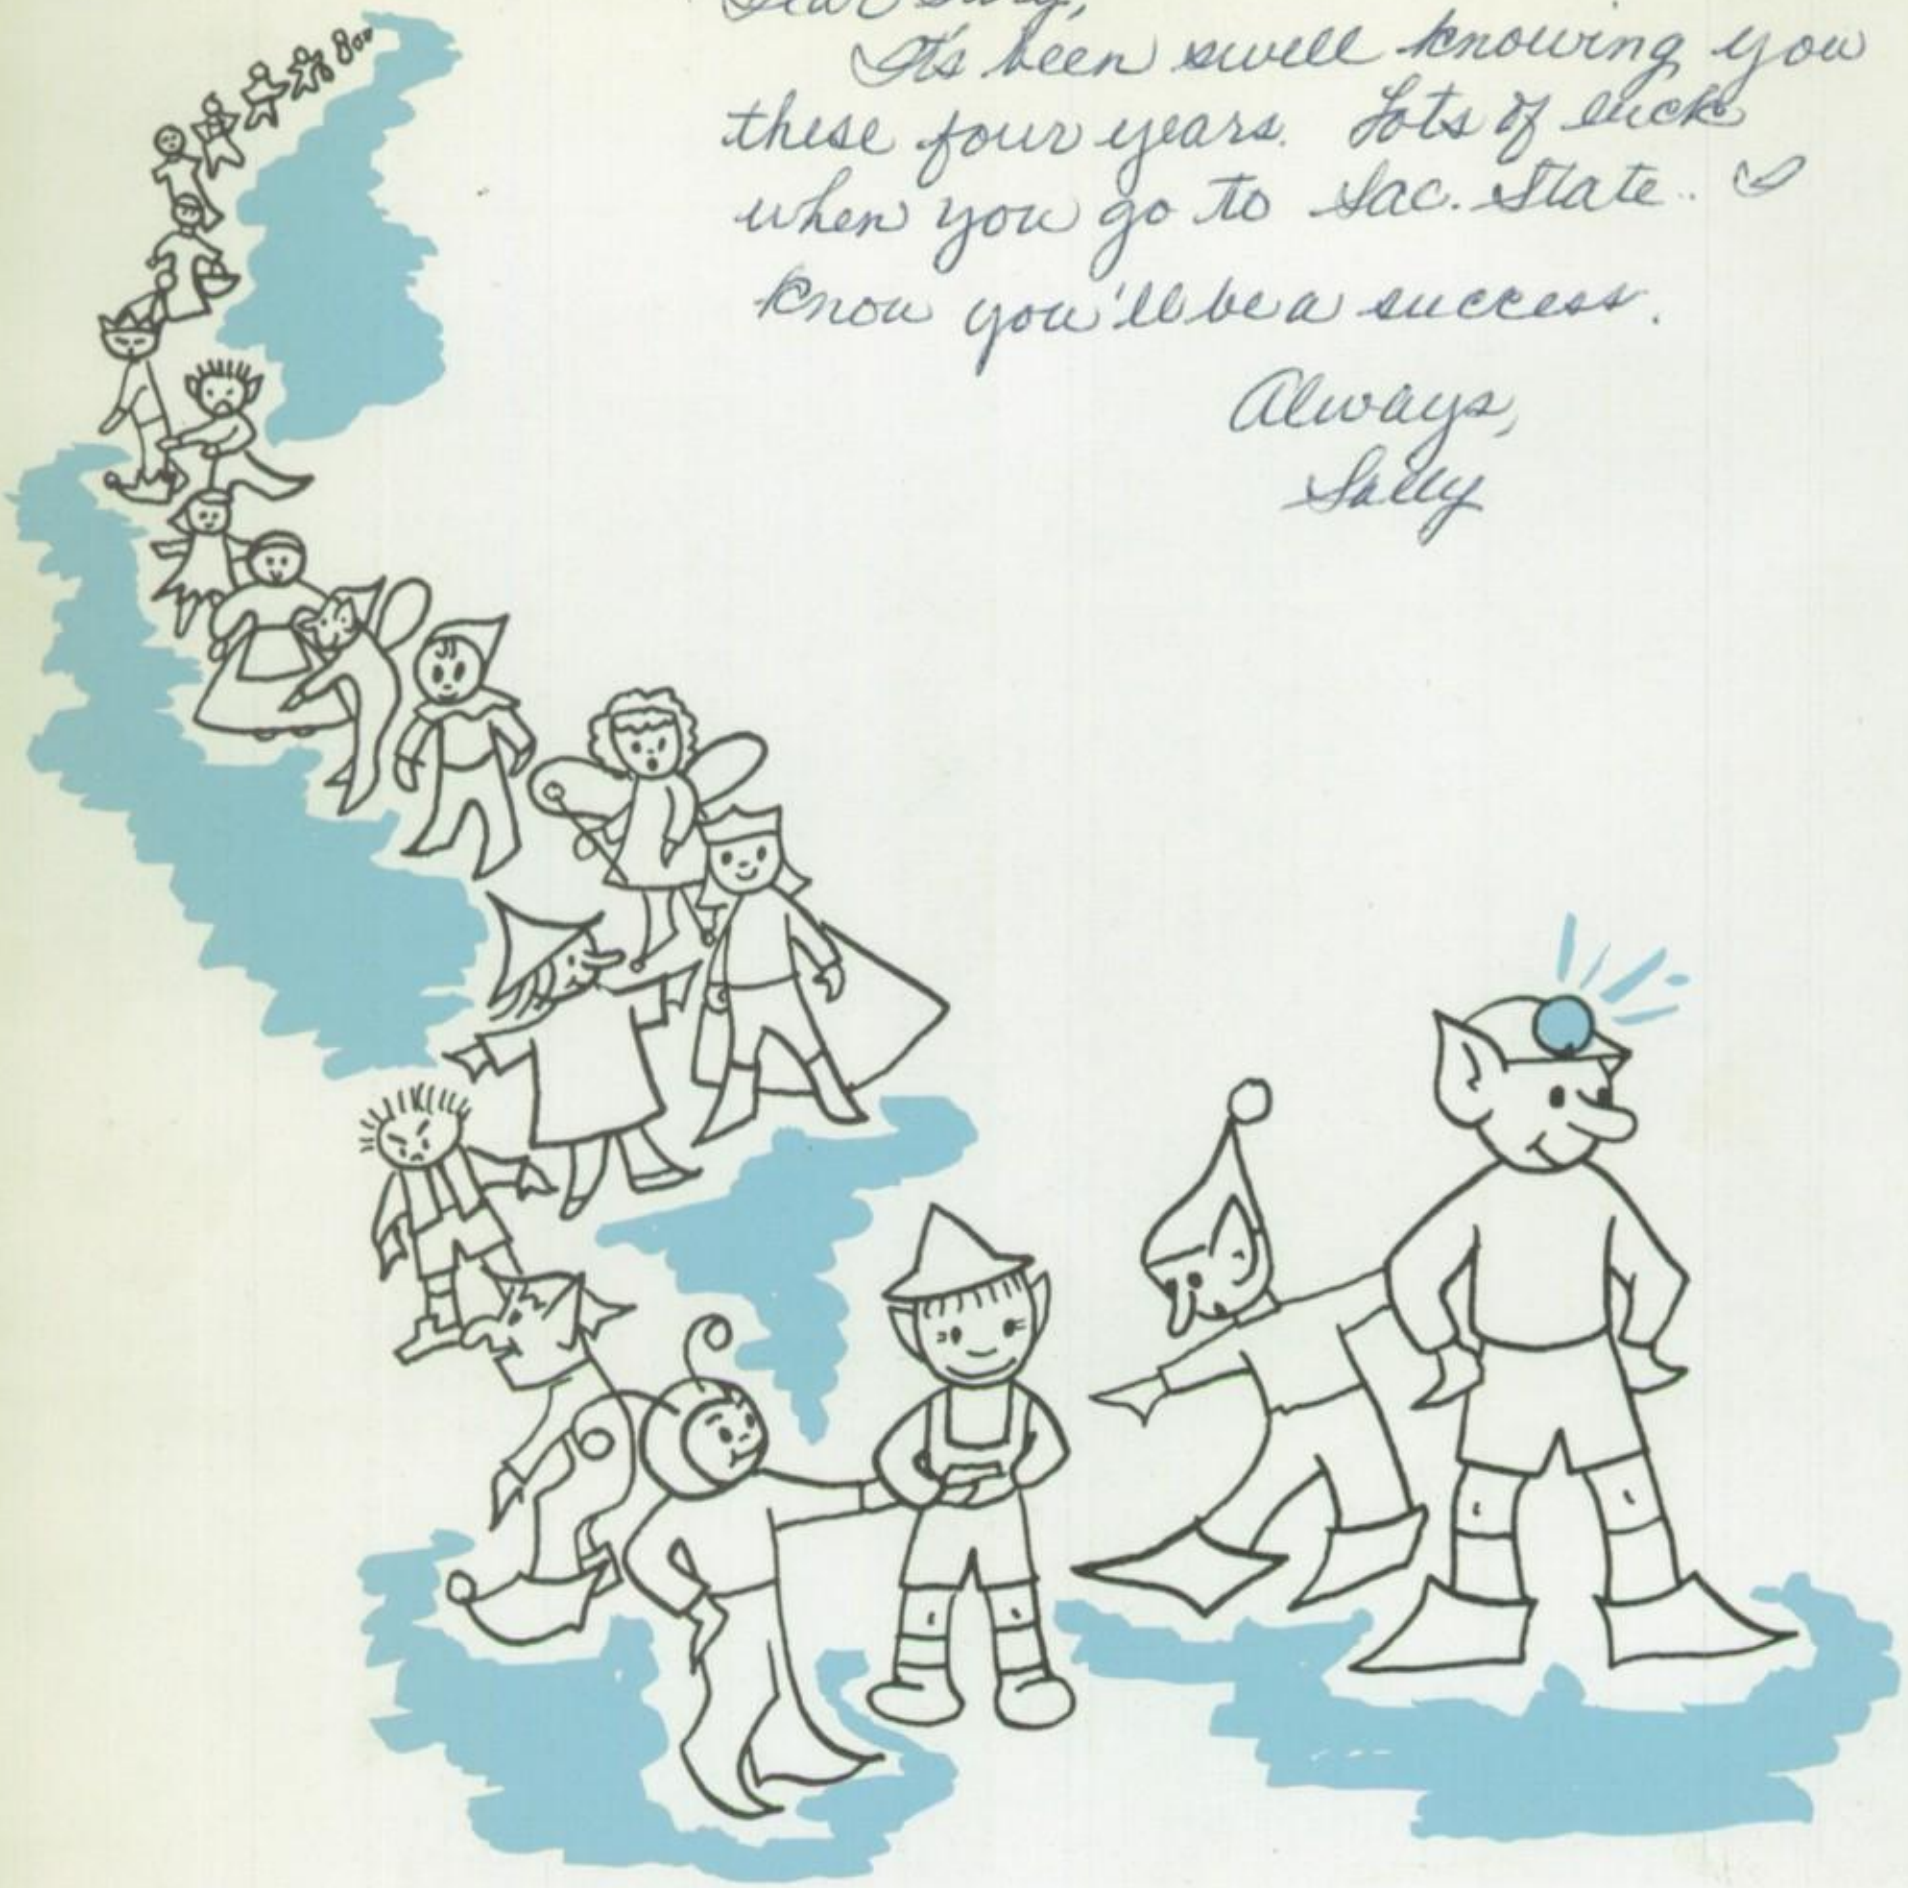
In this day, when we hear more of Sputnik and Explorer than anything else, we turn gratefully for a moment's respite to the Tommyknocker, a curious sort of elf.

Found everywhere in mines where men of Cornish background have worked, he is represented as both helpful and mischievous. When disaster threatens, for example, to the air supply in the mine, the men hear a warning knock on the timbers by—who else, but the Tommyknockers? Of course, they aren't above tricks of all kinds—a happy tradition, the Tommyknockers! When the tea in a miner's lunch-bucket—with its pastie and saffron bun—is tipped over that is the Tommyknocker, who has done it again! Their life has always been a "fun" one.

Now, with our mines closed, we fancy these "little men" have moved into our school buildings, and we welcome them by featuring them as the theme of 1958 Prospector.

Dear Sary,
It's been swell knowing you these four years. Lots of luck when you go to Sac. State. I know you'll be a success.

Always,
Sally



DEDICATION

This volume is dedicated to the happy, helpful, fun-loving elf of the northern mines—the Tommyknocker—and to similar "little people" that have lightened the hearts of men: the sprite, fairy, pixie, gnome, goblin, nymph, dryad, brownie, banshee, troll, hobgoblin, leprechaun, the good folk, the little men, elfenfolk, in fact—all the "little people!"

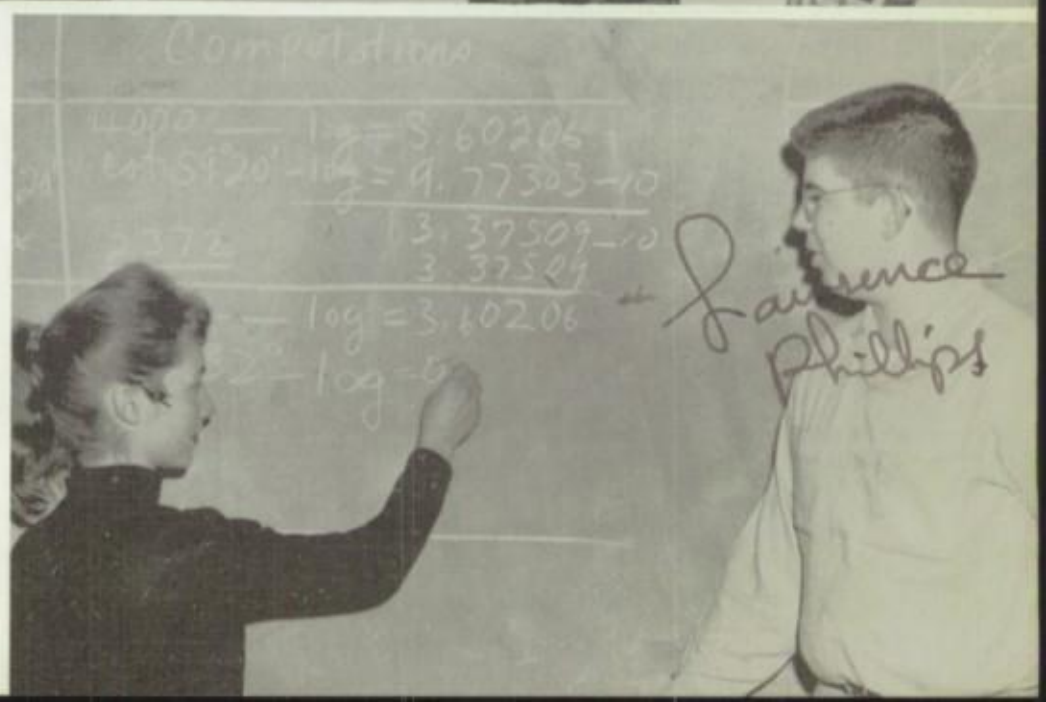
OUR SCHOOL IS FUN, BUT ALSO WORK–

Our Nevada Union School District provides educational opportunities to meet the needs of every youth. The next few pages illustrate only some of the subjects taught.

An important activity of the human mind lies in communicating and receiving ideas. English class activities in speaking, reading and writing lead to speech, dramatic art, foreign languages (three years each of Latin, Spanish and French) and journalism (yearbook).

Civics and Senior Problems, American History, and World History are required subjects, and, besides widening the students' horizons, also prepare them directly to become intelligent citizens.

We discover the wonderful world of science and mathematics. Algebra, Plane Geometry, in turn, fascinate those who work in this department. Biology, Chemistry, and Physics teach truths and laws, demonstrated, observed, and practiced in experimental science.

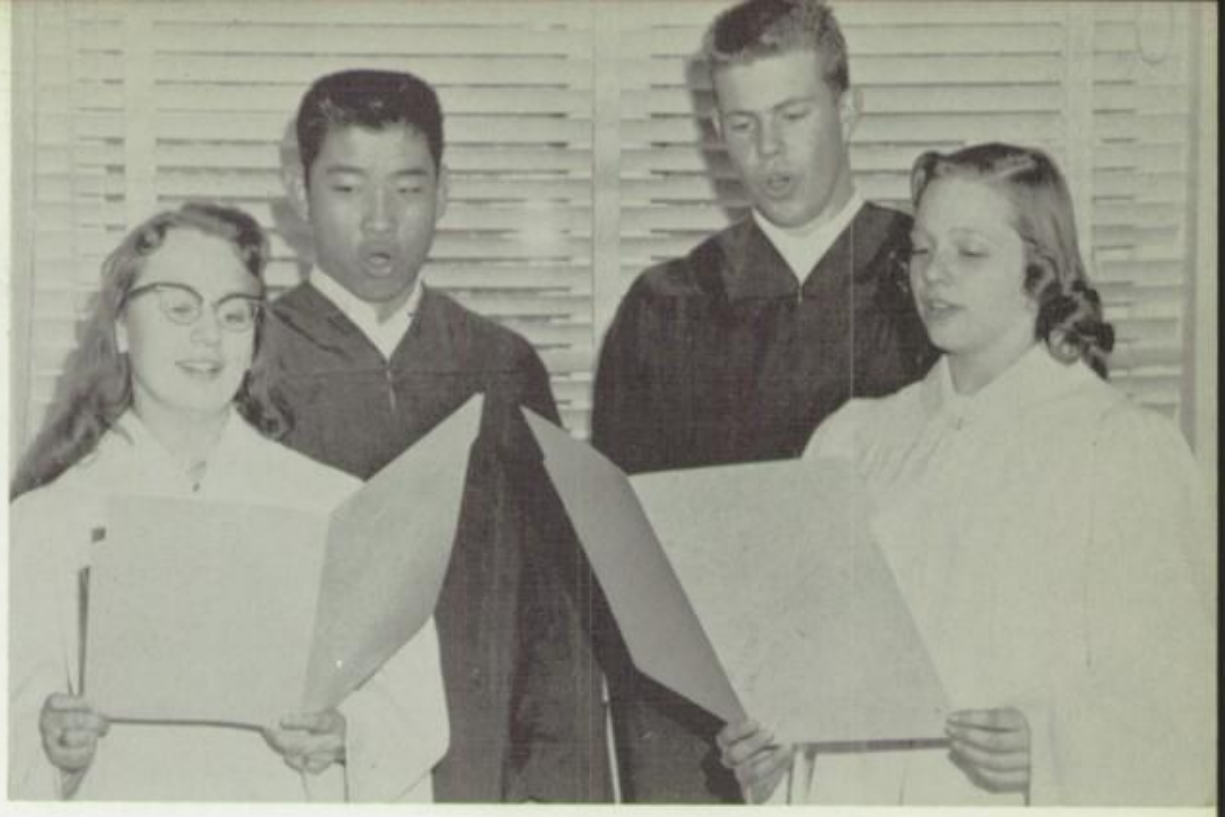


Agricultural Science II, III, and IV and Agricultural Mechanics II, III and IV are important courses for our Future Farmers. This department will need an additional teacher next year.

Biology is a "Life" course, recommended for every student.

Business majors may take many courses, such as: Clerk Sales, Bookkeeping, Shorthand I and II, Typing I and II, Work Experience and Office Practice.

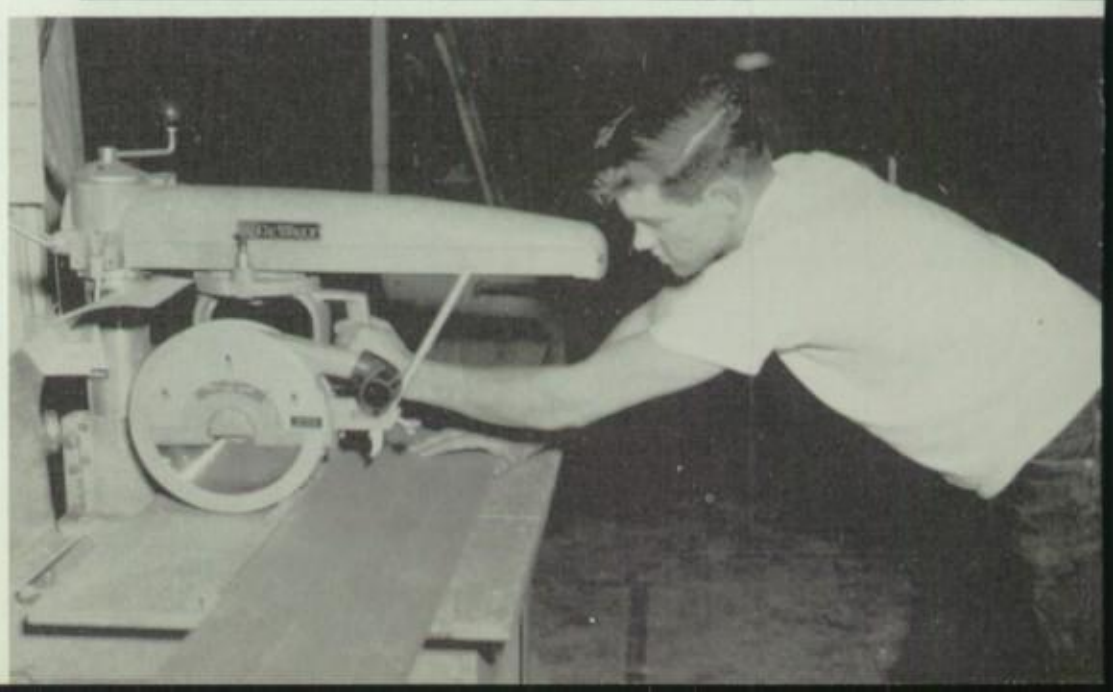
In music, we have an exceptional program in both choral and instrumental departments. Students are very proud of their participation in beginning band, advanced band, boys' chorus, girls' ensemble, mixed chorus, and music appreciation.



Dramatics, an elective course, and Drivers' Training, which is required, contribute to hobby and occupation of a student.

Auto Shop, Cabinet Shop, Girls' Shop, Mechanical Drawing, Architectural and Machine Drawing, Metal Shop II and III, and Wood Shop II are courses offered in our Industrial Arts department.

Physical Education is so well represented on our sports section that we used no pictures on these pages. We also have students working in library, in the cafeteria, and in the following offices: Counseling, Attendance, Principal's, and Superintendent's



ART

In the fields of fine and applied art, work in crayon, pastels, sketching, water color, oils, weaving, ceramics, leather work, papier mache is done in our classes of basic formal art, and arts and crafts.

HOMEMAKING

Homemaking II, III, and IV are probably the most useful classes in school—for girls, anyway.

Students pictured on these pages were chosen as outstanding in the departments.

SUPERINTENDENT'S MESSAGE

The fame of the Cornish miner can be traced to ancient times when Phoenician trading ships carried tin from the mines of Cornwall to the empires bounding the Mediterranean Sea.

The first miners to emigrate to California brought with them the tools of their trade, including a special hammer called a tommyknocker, which was used in testing the safety of overhanging rocks. Nature's secrets, stripped from underground tunnels by generations of practical Cornish, proved invaluable in the development of our deep quartz mines.

Mythical tommyknockers in the shape of elves were also known to inhabit the mines and often sent messages through the sound of falling rocks, creaking timbers, or a misbehaving candle flame to warn of danger. Traditional superstitions, fear of the unknown, age-old prayers for "deliverance from the dread things which go bump in the night," have been dispelled by education and the great discovery that nature operates in accordance with fixed laws; that scientists study nature, are willing to be taught by nature.

Our modern bugs explore in outer space, and man-made pixies guide circling satellites which test the ceilings of the universe and send discordant messages, which listeners may hear as codes presaging dangers to mankind, but which provide data in our never ending search for truth.

MRS. O'LEARY, Recorder

MR. GEORGE, Principal

MR. HOOPER, Vice Principal

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

Imagination leads us to believe that those gremlins of the early miners—the Tommyknockers—were sired by the snowy white quartz, mothered by the stratas of gold, gathered in invisible cloister to laud the abilities and skills of those early Cornish miners they relentlessly be-deviled. "Ed'ared is gifted with the drill," nodded one. "Aye," agreed another, "And Charles with his timbers and Henery with his knowledge of the wandering of the golden ledge."

So right were the mine Tommyknockers. Every man has a talent for the finding.

In the infinite pattern of the Great Designer no two humans are cast from identical molds. American education recognizes this. America is not a regimented nation. Born free and equal, our channels of career productiveness are indicated by early tendencies.

We are proud of our American system of education, considered one of the first requisites of the colonies. This broadening of opportunity was sparked by American initiative, sacrifice, and determination—through early days of democracy, the move westward of Americans peopling a continent, the era of immigration. It has forged its way to the peak in industrial and scientific expansion and world leadership. Through education, America has kept ahead.

Daily news headlines talk a language unknown a decade ago—"nuclear fission," "the sound barrier," "man-made satellites." This is the hour of tribute to America's scientists, chemists, mathematicians. But while plaudits for these men are sung today, it is well to remember that these few depend upon the many.

American education has not forgotten the man "gifted with the drill, skilled with timbers, of knowledge of the wanderings of the metal ledges." Upon these, American education centers, for of these the Great Designer has patterned the greater number.

HOMECOMING

This year we had our first annual homecoming under the chairmanship of Mr. J. Bradshaw, with all students participating. A parade of band, of majorettes, and of floats by classes and organizations was one of the main events.

Also, we won our game with Yuba City, and afterwards the P.T.A. entertained the alumni at a Koffee Klutch.

Rosie Grenfell, Junior, was crowned queen; our princesses were Sonja Ronningen, Senior, and Carol Wong, Sophomore.

At our yearbook deadline we received the results of the voting for the Senior Ball models.

The theme chosen was "The Sand and the Sea," as planned by Carol Quinney and Marilyn Viscia.

Committees are being organized and already the Seniors are very, very busy.

By the way, the Seniors won the Student Council gold pan for the best turnout at football games.

Plans are being made for an outdoor graduation on Friday evening, June 13.

TEACHERS OF TOMORROW

This group of young men and women are preparing themselves for their life work.

Our "Teachers of Tomorrow" visit schools and observe the teacher's techniques. Always dependable, they can be counted on when volunteers are needed.

We can be confident that the coming generation will be in excellent hands, with fine upstanding young men and women like these becoming our "Teachers of Tomorrow."

Officers of the club are: President, Judy Rader; Vice President, Melanie LeGate; Advisor, Mr. Bradshaw.

FUTURE NURSES CLUB

These efficient looking girls will be our future nurses. During this year they have been quite active — listening to speakers, going on trips, planning their immediate future.

Officers of the club are: Secretary, Mildred Shaner; Advisor, Mrs. Fellerson.

PLANNING CONFERENCE

1958 DELEGATES

This year, Jeanine McCauley is President of the 1958 Richardson Springs Older Girls Conference, with our school as the host school. Our delegates are chosen by the girls of the school and the faculty on the basis of scholarship, leadership, school service and citizenship.

PARENT TEACHERS ASSOCIATION

Last fall our P.T.A. sponsored a back-to-school evening that was most successful and worthwhile. Each parent followed his son's or daughter's schedule, and each teacher explained the class work covered.

Mrs. Barbara Flynn and Mr. H. L. Childers were awarded Life Memberships.

Besides this, the P.T.A. has a regular schedule of meetings and work.

This year's officers are:

MRS DONALD GREGORY ..... President
MRS WARREN RIDINGER ..... Vice President
MR. FRANTZ, MR. GEORGE ..... Second Vice Presidents

Speech Class and Contest Winners

One of the most active and appreciated classes in school is speech class. Under Mr. Elmer Stevens' guidance, speakers are trained who speak for many civic movements such as the polio drive and also at service Club programs and church groups.

Two pep assemblies skits were cleverly done and with the clowns, the class presented a Lincoln assembly program.

These vivacious girls can take most of the credit for the pep and spirit of our school. It is a great responsibility, but these spirit makers are always on the job, rain or shine. Our thanks to them, and heartiest congratulations for a tremendous job well done.

Dear Gary,
Well this is it. We sure have had fun haven't we, it's really been great this year hasn't it.
We sure have had a blast in Drama Club?
Good luck ~~to~~ in everything you do because you really deserve the best.
Just think no more Trigs. thank God!!!

What we go through!

Finances, pictures, dummies, copy sheets, advertising, sales, finance, more pictures, page layouts, write-ups, still more pictures, and three terrifying deadlines—all for this one book! Ann and Eileen were "real gone" top staff, Jeanine and Dorothy ably assisted, Marilyn and Bob K. supervised advertising make-up, Sue was our artist, assisted by Carol, Carl did sports, Bob P. and Leroy printed away, and everyone worked hard. Carol's idea for a theme was adopted. Gary, Dayton, and Herman won the "Hundred Dollar Day" contest for ads.

Thanks to Mr. Frost's skill, we finally have a drafting table, which helped immensely.

Mr. Larry Farrell took the scenic pictures for five of our division pages—these are the pages that really "send you." Thank you, Larry, for being a genius!

We had fun and partied, but mostly worked hard!!!

VARSITY BASKETBALL

This year's basketball season saw many of the best teams in action of the past several seasons. Nevada "U's" team showed a great deal of spirit and, on several occasions, won or lost games by narrow margins.

Inexperience proved the main weakness during the season. Much improvement took place, and it is hoped with three returning lettermen that next year's season will be more successful. Varsity players lost in the Kendall-Arnett Tournament in the consolation play-off by one point.

JUNIOR VARSITY BASKETBALL

Short in height but long in hustle, that's the story of this year's J.V. team. The J.V.'s tried their best, no matter what the odds were against them. They came close to upsetting the league leaders several times. Outstanding in both offense and defense was Bob Lewis, the team captain. Harry Chappell and Charles May were outstanding in offensive play, while John Abas was the defensive sparkplug. All members of the team improved, and some will form the nucleus of next year's teams . . .

OLD AND NEW FASHIONS

The F.H.A. Spring Fashion show had the theme Seventy Years of Fashion. The local attics yielded many fine dresses from 1885 and on through the gay Nineties—to the terrific '20's. The boy and girl bathers of the '20's really stole the show. The fashion review ended with the clothes the girls of 1957 made and wear today, but we could see the influence the clothes of grandmother's day and mother's day had on today's clothes.

PARENTS' NIGHT

Parents' Night always has a very large attendance. A program is given, followed by the parents visiting the exhibits that are arranged "bazaar style" in the gym. These are only a few typical pictures, since all departments are represented.

"WHERE'S CHARLEY?"

Another of Mrs. Marion Libbey's outstanding productions was the comic operetta "Where's Charley?" given May, 1957. The scenery, costuming, lighting, and dramatic direction were all most excellent. It was truly a never-to-be-forgotten experience.

Our budding young actors and actresses performed before the student body last spring in a strange and unusual melodrama entitled

"The Reunion."

SPRING DRAMATICS

Arsenic and Old Lace

This rollicking comedy, directed by Mr. Ellsworth, was received enthusiastically at each of the three evening performances. The cast was headed by Joanne Whatley Tennell, as Aunt Abby, and Lorene Merrill, as Aunt Martha.

Coach Warren Immel reports that last year we ended the season with 8 matches won, 4 lost record. This year's team is bolstered by returning lettermen Smitty Andrews and Bill Gray, and also expected to be on the team are Ed Montonari and Bill George.

Bob Penn, our No. 1 man, won the S.F.L. Singles Championship in 1957 as a sophomore, defeating Jim Bryant of Yuba City, also a sophomore.

Last year Bryant turned the tables on Penn at the league tournament.

This year, both seniors, should find them at it again for the S.F.L. singles championship.

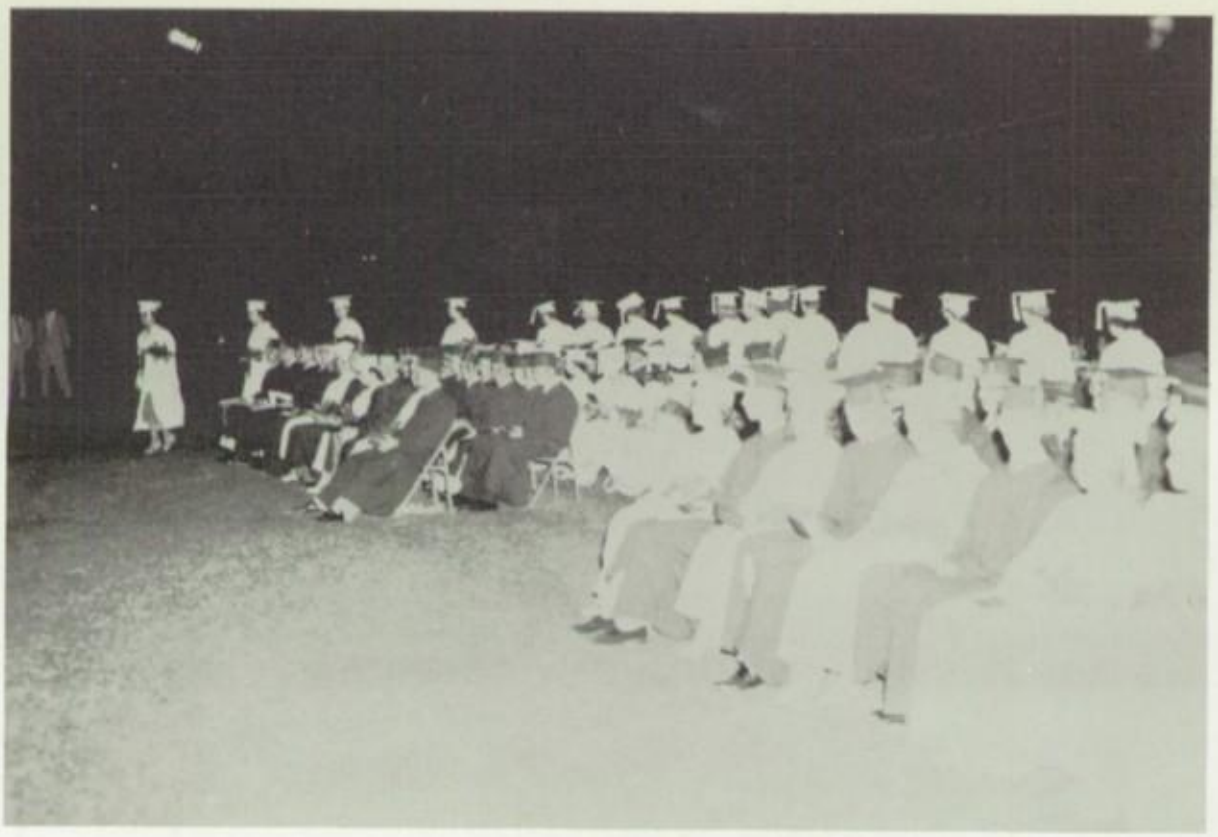
BACCALAUREATE



On a beautiful night, a large crowd of parents and friends watched the Class of 1957 receive their diplomas from a stage in the center of Hennessy Field, a new "first" for Nevada Union. This outdoor Graduation exercise was very popular with the students and adults. Class President Bill Moule introduced Arlene Hansen, Brian Bishap, Deanna Knuckey and Ned Ellsworth who spoke on their theme, "Bridges to the Moon." The musical part of the program included Tom White, Mary Jane Isles, Carol Cicogni and Bob Fisher. Not pictured: Harold Covington.

Gary -

Memories, -- memories, thats what highschool will be in a week. Then we'll just have a few souvenirs and a lot of fond memories of our highschool days. There are many things I could write that would bring back memories years from now when you read this and I hope you will remember the good times, ~~an~~ quarrels, and jokes we have had.

My car will always be remembered by me and I hope you will remember too. The flat tires and battery cable. The times we coasted so far for gas. No back windows always made it nice for winter driving. Shoveling snow out of the back seat. Two hours before a date take the seat cover to a laundromat and have ~~ing~~ it washed and dryed.

Remember the girls we went out with? Lynn, Jane, Elsie, Charlene, Marty, and Judy. I hope they had as much fun as we did. Our weekend trips to Sacramento were always good for a laugh. The Sacramento drive, El Dorado, Shakey's, and a few other places we raided.

Some day when you are old and feeble and the pages of this book have turned yellow with age, I hope you will read this and it will remind you of the days we spent in high school.

Sincerly Yours.

Norman Page
